Culture of Care

Speaker: Spencer Beach

This presentation is designed to help top and middle management understand their role in the safety system. In this presentation, Spencer Beach travels through history showing real life examples of what happens when safety isn?t prioritized. When leaders don?t embrace safety, the people who end up leading cultural change are the widows and widowers, family and friends ? the loved ones left behind.

Spencer Beach knows what tragedy is like and can guide people on how to deal with it and overcome every obstacle in a safe and motivating way.

He was engulfed in a flash fire on his job, receiving burns to 90 percent of his body. He went through anger, depression but didn?t let anything stop him from living his best life. Part of that was using his experience to promote safety and inspire others to move forward in spite of what happens to them.

Spencer?s story is one of both inspiration and warning. He has life lessons that help people move forward after such an event and how co-workers can offer support.
