Picture This! You Do the Hokey Pokey And…

This isn’t the type of move a worker makes without plenty of practice. And you know what they say about practice making perfect. Except one time, this type of unsafe behavior is going to catch up with this worker, and the results could be anything but perfection. With no fall protection, no proper working platform and tenuous toeholds on supporting surfaces that sometimes aren’t even horizontal, this worker is courting a trip to the hospital or morgue.
