Propane Industry Safety Talks Vehicle Inspection & Safety

Because propane is flammable, fire extinguishers must be available at all facilities and on all vehicles. They can keep a small incident from becoming a major accident. It is important that all workers and operators understand how to maintain and use fire extinguishers, in the event of a safety-related issue.