Everybody likes a simple numbered take-away, and work in a post-COVID world is anything but simple. If you are looking at a long road to recovery for your industry, it's critical that you know 5 strategies you can implement to make sure that you are on the leading-edge instead of the lagging-edge, because the difference between the two ends of the recovery spectrum isn't how long it takes to recover your business; the difference is whether or not your business does recover.

Join Norm Keith, B.A., J.D., LLM., CRSP, and senior partner of KPMG Law – as he guides you through a 3-part webinar on the OHS & HR implications in a post-COVID Canada.
